

Graves under the National School extension - as taken from surviving records prior to building and expanded thanks to surveying carried out by Burial Ground Management System in 2024

This transcript relies on photography and prior transcripts, as well as research carried out by FOCCT to identify the owners of plots with plot markers.

Where we suspect a stone was displaced, we have indicated which grave we believe that stone belongs with.

Stones which have gone missing since 2001 are highlighted pink.
